"Full colour and minimalist design make this one a pleasure to flip through. Kolaj dedicates itself to—you guessed it—the art form of collage. There's something delightful here: the artistic process famously dependent on cutting up old magazines and newspapers now has a magazine of its own."

-Canadian Magazines

Kolaj is a quarterly, printed magazine about contemporary collage. We are interested in how collage is made, how collage is exhibited, and how collage is collected. We bring together critical reviews and essays with artist profiles, event highlights, and articles on collage collecting, exhibiting, and making. Kolaj is published in Montreal, Quebec by Maison Kasini.
